APPROVED BY THE CABINET.

President Mckinley's Intention Was

Made Known Monday Night. WASHINGTON, June 11 .- President Mc Kinley to-day put an effectual quietus on the third-term talk, which has gained some currency in the newspapers through interviews with certain well-known Republicans favoring the renomination of the President for a third term. Shortly before to-day's telyou gave to the press a signed statement by the President intended for the American people announcing that he was not a candidate for a third term, and would not accept a renomination if one were tendered.

A decision to issue such a statement was reached last night when the President read to the members of the Cabinet his proposed statement, at the same time personally pledging each to secrecy until public announcement was made. The Cabinet, on hearing the reasons the President advanced which are substantially set forth in the public announcement, namely, that talk of a third term would react on the national policies the administration is endeavoring | leaves widow and small boy. to promote, coincided with the view of their chief that the present was an opportune time for its promulgation. The phraseology of the announcement was considered further by the Cabinet to-day, and after a change or two from last night's draft, Secretary Cortelyou was directed to make it public. The President's intimate personal and political friends later expressed nouncement, but they generally conceded they had not expected the announcement at this time. They said, however, that they believed the President had shown his quick and excellent political judgment by crushing the third-term movement in its

WASHINGTON, June 11 .- President Mc Kinley's statement that he is not and will not be a candidate for a third term, and would not accept a third nomination if tendered, disposes of the unwarranted thirdterm boom of superserviceable friends. CLEVELAND, O., June 11 .- "It is just what I expected the President would say if he said anything on the subject," was the comment of Senator Hanna to-day, when he read President McKinley's statement in reference to a third term. "I have never exchanged one word with the President concerning the matter," he continued, "and have considered all talk bearing on the subject as premature. According to my judgment it is too early to discuss presidential candidates for the next term.' Asked if he was in favor of maintaining the precedent established by President Washington in reference to the number of years the chief executive should hold office, Mr. Hanna said: "I don't think the precedent set by Washington has a great deal to do with the matter. But there is undoubtedly a strong sentiment among the people against such a proposition.

All Have Agreed to Protect Each Other Against Unjust Demands of Labor Organizations.

NEW YORK. June 11 .- About three hundred representatives of the metal trades held a conference to-day at the call of the National Metal Trades Association. The session was held behind closed doors President Edwin Reynolds gave out a lengthy statement of the position of the association as to the machinists' strike, which was prepared by the administration counsel. The statement reviews the Chicago agreement as to arbitration made in March, 1900, and accuses the machinists of violating it. It also charges that the machinists willfully misconducted and misrepresented the agreement of May, 1900. A great number of new firms were accepted as members of the association.

Eleven Counts in the Indictment-The Girl Released on Bond and to Be Sent to a Sanitarium.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., June 11.-The grand jury, this afternoon, found an indictment against Mabel L. Burt, the former Smith College student, on eleven counts for the larceny of money and jewelry. She was arraigned before Judge Pierce, and, on motion of counsel, waived the reading of the indictment and pleaded not guilty, retracting her plea of guilty in the lower court. Counsel asked for a continuance and for moderate bail. Judge Pierce named $1,000. Mr. Burt, the father of the girl, produced sureties and, with his wife and daughter, left, accompanied by Dr. Mary J. Brewster, the Smith College physician. Miss Burt seemed quite nervous, but did not break down. Her mother was in tears during the proceedings. In an interview Mr. Burt said he would return to Bridgeton, N. J., and that he would place his daughter in a sanitarium in Pennsylvania. Regarding the alleged departure of two young men from this city, the police say there has been no action taken looking to further arrests in the case. It was also said that the Worcester police had secured from one of the young men a $150 ring, which he had admitted receiving from Miss Burt, and which has been identified since its return by a Smith College

KANSAS CITY, June 11 .- The defense in the case of Lulu Prince-Kennedy, on trial for killing her husband, was begun to-day, and twenty witnesses were examined. W. Prince, the brother and father of the prisoner, whom the State had tried to prove were watching the entrances to the Ridge building at the time of the murder to prevent Kennedy's escape. Although the defense tried to prove they had left the elder Prince's poolroom after the shooting occurred, the time given by the witnesses varied from 5:15 to 5:45. The shooting took Prince detailed his whereabouts on the day of the murder. He had been with his patent attorneys during the morning, he said, talking over a patent he intended placing on the market and went home about noon, remaining there until about 3:30, when he returned to town alone. He went to his father's place of business, and at 4 o'clock Mrs. Kennedy followed. He denied having accompanied Mrs. Kennedy to town a few hours before the murder when she was supposed to have been en route to Kennedy's office. The State tried to show that Prince left home with his sister on the afternoon of the murder, furnishing her with a revolver en route and instructing her in what she should do when she went to her husband's office.

At the afternoon session Mrs. Kennedy continued to prompt her attorneys, taking a lively interest in every point brought out. Her condition had improved, and when court adjourned for the day she was able to walk from the room without aid. Most of the witnesses examined in the afternoon were questioned with a view to showing the exact time that Bert Prince and his father left the latter's poolroom for the scene of the killing on Jan. 10. The shooting took place at 5:40 in the evening, in the Ridge building, five blocks distant from Prince's place. Of the half dozen witnesses who testified on this point no two agreed, the time given varying from 5:15 to 5:45. The State endeavored to prove that all of the Princes were in the Ridge building before the shooting began, and the defense's effort to show that they were at the elder Prince's place until after the shooting was not clearly proven. Two witnesses testified to Prince leaving his place alone, and one said that the father and son had departed together.
